ORC2
Orc2 (ORC2 Products)
The origin recognition complex (ORC) is a highly conserved six subunits protein complex essential for the initiation of the DNA replication in eukaryotic cells. Studies in yeast demonstrated that ORC binds specifically to origins of replication and serves as a platform for the assembly of additional initiation factors such as Cdc6 and Mcm proteins. The protein encoded by this gene is a subunit of the ORC complex. This protein forms a core complex with

Target Details

ORC3, -4, and -5. It also interacts with CDC45 and MCM10, which are proteins known to be important for the initiation of DNA replication. This protein has been demonstrated to specifically associate with the origin of replication of Epstein-Barr virus in human cells, and is thought to be required for DNA replication from viral origin of replication. Alternatively spliced transcript variants have been found, one of which is a nonsense-mediated mRNA decay candidate.

Molecular Weight:

65.8 kDa

NCBI Accession:

NP_006181

Application Details

Application Notes: Recombinant human proteins can be used for:

Native antigens for optimized antibody production

Positive controls in ELISA and other antibody assays

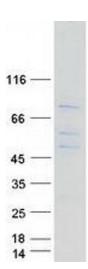

Comment: The tag is located at the C-terminal.

Restrictions: For Research Use only

Handling

Concentration:	50 μg/mL
Buffer:	25 mM Tris.HCl, pH 7.3, 100 mM glycine, 10 % glycerol.
Storage:	-80 °C
Storage Comment:	Store at -80°C. Thaw on ice, aliquot to individual single-use tubes, and then re-freeze immediately. Only 2-3 freeze thaw cycles are recommended.

Western Blotting
